ELLISTON COMMUNITY & VISITOR INFORMATION CENTRE NEWS

Pictured:
Guest Speaker
Mary O'Brien.

On the 24th of February we had a community outreach event held in the Elliston hall. It was a part of an Australian Government Drought Initiative. We had a great evening with a turn out of about 50 people from the district. Rotary Port Lincoln were there to cook up a BBQ feed for the event goers. Mentally Fit Ep also came along and were available to chat to as well as government representatives. We had Mary O'Brien a mental health advocate as a guest speaker. Mary wrote an article 'Are you bogged mate?' which you can find on the website below. This article lead to her presenting to rural areas to raise awareness about mental health and the educate us on support that is available. Highly recommend checking out her page and reading the article and her poem 'The Handshake'.

A service that Mary made us aware of is the

VIRTUAL PSYCHOLOGIST - FREE Service for Rural and Remote Communities

Many people in the rural and remote community do not have access to mental health services and due to their location may be many hundreds of kilometres away from the nearest mental health practitioner. Others feel too embarrassed to be seen going into visit a psychologist due to the nature of small communities and greater visibility amongst the people. This is a Federally Funded initiative to provide Mental Health Services to Rural and Remote Communities in Australia. To access this service you will need to provide some qualifying information.
